- A declaration of Truth and Accuracy stating that the information submitted in an application and its attachments are a true and accurate record with respect to professional practice in Chaplaincy in General Practice

C. Continuing Professional Development (CPD) for Chaplaincy in General Practice - Guidance

Continuing Professional Development (CPD) is an educative and developmental process for Chaplains in General Practice to maintain and enhance their knowledge and skills in the context of professional practice. The aims of CPD are to ensure that Chaplains in General Practice are able to meet the standards required for competent practice and to promote excellence in the profession.

The CPD is conceptually broken into three broad spheres: educational, experiential and evidential, as reflective of the Chaplain's work and world. Any event or activity that meets educational needs for Chaplains in General Practice and provides an effective learning event may be considered as a form of CPD. In line with the UKBHC recommendations CPD is recorded in the categories below:

1. Individual activities: Self-directed learning undertaken and evaluated by the Chaplain in General Practice. Examples include reading journals and articles, reviewing books and papers, updating knowledge via information sources.
2. Individual Professional activity undertaken and evaluated by the Chaplain in General Practice. Examples include supervising, teaching, presentation at conferences, publications, involvement in a professional body, Local Research Ethics Committee (LREC).
3. Internal Work Based Learning undertaken and evaluated by the Chaplain in General Practice. Examples include reflective practice, clinical supervision, case study, audit, user feedback, journal club.
4. External Formal Educational activity in which the Chaplain participates in an event that is delivered by peers or an educational provider, usually with a regional, national or international context. Examples include workshops, conferences, courses, planning or running a course and obtaining recognised qualifications.
5. Non-Workplace Based: Faith Group Connection. Chaplains should be able to show evidence of their recognised connection within a mainstream faith community. Usually, this would be the same faith community that recognised the connection of the Chaplain upon appointment Evidence needs to be presented in a table of the Chaplain's involvement in their faith community during the year. CPD points are not awarded for this activity.

Chaplains in General Practice are required to document and keep evidence of the learning achieved. Certificates and additional relevant material can be added as appendices. These sections need to be completed in the templates provided (which can be expanded as required). Competences achieved need to be added (see 'Spiritual Care Competences Framework for Primary Care Chaplains' (Appendix 1).

In order to promote a range of learning it is the expectation that CPD points should be gained across all three categories: individual, internal and external. The overall intention is not to be over restrictive and controlling but rather to guide thinking and planning. The range of points for the categories are to be viewed as guidelines and seek to provide a framework to ensure that a practitioner's development is balanced and includes aspects of each separate category. One hour of relevant activity equates to one CPD point. The dominant aim is to show that the Chaplain is keeping themselves up to date within their professional field. Each Chaplain is expected to achieve a minimum number of points per year (see table below).

1 hour = 1 CPD point

CPD Category	minimum points per year
Individual:	15
Internal:	15
External:	5

Total required 35

D. Personal Development Plan

An important aspect of Continuing Professional Development (CPD) is that the Chaplain in General Practice considers their learning needs for the year ahead. These could be discussed with the supervisor or line manager, often as part of an annual appraisal. The learning needs can be related to the requirements of the individual or the service and ideally should be S.M.A.R.T. (Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Relevant and Timely). These learning needs and goals form the Chaplain in General Practice's Personal Development Plan (PDP) and should be reviewed at agreed intervals.

It is recommended that between three and five learning needs and goals are identified. It is important to consider the competences which have not yet been evidenced when forming the development plan.

Personal Development Plan example

No	Description
1	Read two books on bereavement / dealing with loss
2	Give a talk about GP Chaplaincy at a regional conference about Chaplaincy
3	Write up 2 case studies using different models of reflective practice
4	Attend a mental health first aid course
5	Participate in a training day in my church on listening skills
